ADJUSTABLE FOOT PEDALS

The new SPIRIT Fitness CRW800H2O Water Rowing Machine is a fresh take on one of the most popular full-body workouts available. Constructed with a heavy-duty steel frame and aluminum tracks, this rower is built to last while delivering smooth and quiet performance time and time again. The water tank provides up to 6 levels of resistance, and is positioned at a 45-degree angle to provide an increased range of resistance compared to other rowers on the market. The large flexing foot pedals, comfortable padded handle, and generous 15" seat height make the CRW800H2O one of the most comfortable and accessible commercial rowers available.
